

Diversity Week
at Charleston School of Law
March 22-26, 2021

Education, Unity, Change

Tues. March 23, 12 p.m.

Education Across the Board — A discussion with education leaders on education's impact unifying society and ways individuals can create positive change.

Dr. Gerrita Postlewait

Charleston County School District Superintendent

Dr. Andrew Hsu

College of Charleston President

Larry Cunningham

Charleston School of Law Dean

Judge Kristi Harrington

Moderator

Wed. March 24, 12 p.m.

Courts and Change — Judge Margaret B. Seymour, the first Black female judge to serve on the Federal Bench in S.C. discusses her history and the Court's role in positive change.

Thurs. March 25, 12 p.m.

Identity and Representation — Arlinda Locklear, the first female Native American to argue before the U.S. Supreme Court discusses how her identity has shaped her life and the practice of law.

Fri. March 26, 12 p.m.

Cocinar por Unidad — Stephany Garcia, Latina/o Law Student Association President discusses her love of cooking and how to make tostadas tingas. Grab your ingredients and prepare una comida deliciosa.